Out of Darkness

Gary Johnson, Mission & Outreach

Out of the darkness of Lent comes the brilliant light of Easter (with your help)... Skyping inclusive love to Nicaragua is now a reality!

Sometimes sharing the inclusive love of Jesus seems overwhelming and painstaking. What if all it would take to make a huge difference in someone's life was a 30 minute skype call from your own living room? Thanks to our new partner, Emprededora High School in Nicaragua, helping could be as simple as turning on your computer.

Out of Darkness, from page 1

In February John Ross, Lou Vlahos and six church members traveled to Nicaragua to help cement our relationship with this school. And what a school! What a trip! What an outcome!

First a brief background. Nicaragua is the second poorest country in the Americas, where the typical family lives on $500 U.S. per YEAR and public school stops in 5th grade. Opportunity International, a Christian organization which WCC has partnered with for many years, came up with a pilot program: to develop a world class high school in rural Nicaragua where students choose one of two tracks— agriculture or tourism (the fastest growing job areas in the country). At graduation students end up with both a high school diploma and a technical degree.

With the goal of becoming self-sufficient in 10 years, they are 75% of the way there by producing 1,100 eggs per day and 400 pounds of organic lettuce each week. They celebrated their first graduating class in December and of the 40 graduates over 30 have received financial assistance to continue their education in college! Imagine... these students are the first generation to finish 6th grade, let alone high school... and then to consider college!

Because being fluent in English is sorely needed, getting practice with “native English speakers” (that’s us!) is ESSENTIAL for the student’s success. As only God in His great wisdom could see fit, WCC raised the funds this past year for the school’s final building—a library/media center. Once equipped, the media center will allow classes of 30 individual students to Skype with us here in Minnesota to practice their English. Through the grace of our Council and the Senior Minister’s blessing, this year’s Easter offering will go toward fully equipping the library with internet capability and computers to achieve the remote connectivity for this project.

We are incredibly fortunate to have this opportunity to build relationships with these students without ever having to get on a plane or go on an official “mission trip”. For those who wish to practice Spanish while the students are conversing in English, this would be a double win!

If you or your family could find room in your heart for one of these students, or if you are willing to serve on the Nicaragua task force and help to develop this pilot project, please email Gary Johnson (gary@calm.us; jessekuendig@gmail.com) or sign up starting on Easter Sunday.

Moderator's Report

Almost a year ago I accepted the call to serve as your Moderator. Since then I have had an intimate vantage point for the many ways we inspire the world with the inclusive love of Jesus. Worship engagement is strong. The WOW and Parables services continue to grow and provide a unique sense of community within the larger congregation. Our mission and outreach efforts include the local community housing initiative, which has identified a site, and is moving into a new phase of activity. The Easter Offering will support an international mission, the Opportunity International Nicaragua Emprendedora School.

We saw summer camp move to a new location, Camp New Hope—in the hope it would become a long term home. Our passionate staff and a talented group of dedicated volunteers looked at short term operations and long term strategy. After prayerful and deliberate discernment we decided to move again for 2017 to a closer location on Bay Lake.

We engaged four search teams to recruit clergy and staff as we go through a time of significant staff transition. The Personnel Committee has focused on supporting and equipping the staff to navigate through this time of change and changing responsibilities, so they can effectively focus on ministry.

Countless volunteers dedicated time, talent, and treasure serving on ministry groups, boards, and committees. The generosity of this congregation is extraordinary.

Please attend the Annual Meeting on Sunday, April 30 at 10:00 a.m. in the Sanctuary to hear more about the past year, as well as, plans for the coming year from our incoming moderator, Ann Stewart.

Thank you for inspiring me and allowing me to walk part of my faith journey in service of this amazing faith community. I've been blessed by the experience.

Do justice, love kindness and walk humbly with God.

Jim Jensen

Light Shine!

When Jesus said, "...I am the Light of the world..." it wasn't significant only because of WHAT he said... but also because of WHERE he said it.

As we prepare to emerge from the season of Lent equipped with the Gifts from the Dark, let us together see our lives in the Light of World!

In a world lit only by fire, Jesus was standing in the Court of Women—home to Jerusalem's Illumination of the Temple—with burn marks on the stones beneath his feet, the smell of lamp oil in the air, and black soot on the walls and ceilings around lamps. In the shadow of candlesticks that would produce the brightest light known to people, Jesus said: This is the Light of Jerusalem... BUT I AM THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD!

In the Light of Jesus we see the world differently—we begin to see it through Jesus' eyes. Once we've seen the world in this way, we never see it the same way again. In the Light of Jesus...

...we see the NEEDS of our world... feel compelled to RESPOND.

Henri Nouwen in his book "The Way of the Heart" says this about what we see in the Light of Jesus: "Business isn't it. Wealth isn't it. Portfolios are not it. Recognition is not it. Power is not it. Control is not it. No. Meaning and peace come in understanding, and understanding blossoms in concern and concern materializes in service."

We are made to serve. We are called to love. But without the eyes of Jesus, without the light of his love, we remain blind to the needs of the world and we lack understanding and concern that materializes in service.

...we see the FAILURES of our lives... feel compelled to CHANGE.

Some people change when they see the Light, but others not until they feel the heat. Just before Jesus made this memorable claim, an angry crowd that was eager to kill a woman who had been caught in adultery had confronted him. You know how that story ends: Jesus did not condemn her. Neither did anyone else. Instead, He blessed her, looked on her with his own eyes and said, "Go and sin no more."

In the light of Jesus' love we can see more clearly our own failures. And, rather than be shamed or condemned, we are forgiven and called to new life.

For the moment, as we prepare to emerge from the season of Lent equipped with the Gifts from the Dark, let us together see our lives in the Light of the World!

Inspire the world,

Rev. Dr. John F. Ross, Senior Minister

Special Easter Offering

We are pleased to announce that the Special Easter offering will go to Opportunity International Nicaragua Emprendedora School to further support the English learning curriculum and media center operations.

Wayzata Community Church is partnering with Opportunity International to further its vision of helping the poor break the cycle of poverty. The work OI is doing with the Emprendedora School closely aligns with WCC's focus on alleviating poverty through supporting education.

WCC proposes a two-pronged approach to leveraging the WCC-OI partnership:

- Through financial support, dedicated to the English learning curriculum and the media center operations.
- Through operational support, WCC proposes to develop a pilot program that would give Emprendedora students and staff weekly opportunities to engage with native English speakers from WCC.

As God blesses our work, we look forward to continuing to build a strong relationship with OI and to make connections and form relationships with the school students. To read more and learn how you can be part of this on your computer right from home, read Gary Johnson's article beginning on page 1.

Communion Art by Alli Luedtke

Artist Alli Luedtke, her husband Brian, and their four children have been WCC members for over 20 years. Through the years she has generously shared her talent with the church. Alli views her work as an offering, intentionally created to visually delight or in some way touch the viewer. Her sculptures are an invitation for people to pause, reflect, and quietly enjoy a feeling or memory. Her works are enjoyed across the country from the 20 foot tribute wall at the Carl N. Platou Clinic of Fairview Southdale, to the glass and metal mobile at the Broadmoor Medical Center in Colorado Springs and big snowglobes at Ronald McDonald Houses.

When Alli created the candlesticks which grace our communion table, she used leaves collected from our WCC churchyard for the base and asked the WCC staff and lay leaders to each add a symbol representing how they might serve the congregation. If you look closely, you will see hearts, crosses, fingerprints, and other symbols on the body of the candlesticks.

In 2016 Alli was commissioned to create two new pieces to complete the collection—a chalice and a paten, the cup and plate used in Holy Communion. These ceremonial pieces are adorned with grapevines and wheat.

Two of Alli's earlier creations are on display in the Long Hall of the church—bronze sculptures The Trumpeting Angel and The Crucible of Forgiveness, and the glass & bronze hearts, donated to past Mission Festivals, are in the case across from the Pastoral Suite.

Take time to pause, reflect, and enjoy Alli's beautiful creations.

The Easter Watch

by Rev. Rustin Comer

Saturday, April 15 • Easter Eve Service
7:00-8:30 p.m. in the Chapel

Travel with us from the Creation to the Resurrection of Jesus on Holy Saturday as we keep the Vigil and share the first celebration of Easter.

The Easter Watch, traditionally known as the Easter Vigil, or the Paschal Vigil, is a traditional part of the Easter triduum, held in the hours of darkness between sunset on Holy Saturday and sunrise on Easter Day.

During this service the stories of liberation and salvation are recounted from the Bible. Readings from the Hebrew Bible are usually the creation story, the story of the flood, the story of the exodus, and stories of liberation are from the Major and Minor prophets.*

The stories are followed by songs and psalms that connect the Hebrew Bible events to the Christ event of the resurrection. The journey through our liberation history reminds us that the work of redemption and reconciliation has always been the work of God throughout human history.

As the light grows, we move into the three New Testament stories, including readings from the epistles and concluding with the Resurrection story of Jesus. Traditionally during the Lenten season the word "Alleluia" is struck from liturgy. It is during the Watch service that "Alleluia" returns as the light grows brighter. As the light is at its apex the congregation celebrates the first communion of the Easter season.

As Ash Wednesday started in the light and took us into darkness, the Easter Watch will start in darkness and lead us into the Easter light. Our Easter Watch service will begin at 7:00 p.m.

Scott Woolery scouts out his next great path!

by Rima Torgerson

“There are lots of trout just waiting to be caught all over the country and plenty of big pieces of wood just waiting to be converted into projects”. With these objectives in mind, in late April Scott Woolery will spend his final day here as our Director of Operations (DO).

Charismatic, spirited, bold, confident, comedic and amazingly positive — these are the words Wayzata Community Church (WCC) staff and lay leaders use to describe Scott. They call him their “go-to guy” and a “rock” and a “light in the storm when things get rough”. His ear-drum shattering laugh reverberates through the halls of the church, bringing everyone a smile. He has made a significant impression on our people and he will leave a lasting impact on our church.

Senior Minister John Ross says, “his impactful work on our physical facilities is his legacy. Since the construction of our Sanctuary in the early '90s, Scott has been at the center of every significant capital improvement project at WCC, resulting in a beautiful house of God and home for our faith community!” In addition to the building improvements, Scott oversaw our move to a fully electronic member data system (CCB) and the expansion of our website and online presence. He also provided disciplined financial leadership and helped improve our generosity initiatives.

Scott began making an impact at WCC long before becoming DO. As a member since 1982, Scott served in a variety of volunteer roles – as our Moderator and on the Board of Trustees, as Chair of Annual Giving (twice), as Chair of the Capital Campaign for the Sanctuary project, as Chair of Building and Grounds during the construction of both the Sanctuary and the Center for Faith and Learning and as Co-Chair of the search committee that hired Allen Hilton.

After retiring in 2008 from managing a local heating and air conditioning firm, Scott wasn't looking for a “real job” with regular hours or anything that involved managing people. But in 2012, he wasn't able to resist the pull of serving WCC in yet another key capacity – as our DO. With a degree in Business Management from Indiana University and an MBA from The Wharton School, Scott's education and work experience prepared him well for the job. Scott once described the job as “going to a lot of meetings, managing people and ‘putting out a lot of fires’” (not his exact words).

Scott's upbeat personality, sense of humor, and endless stream of life stories will be dearly missed.

With big shoes to fill, there is much enthusiasm about Scott's replacement, church member Laura Janckila. While there is universal excitement about Laura, staff and lay leaders are lamenting Scott's departure. His upbeat personality, sense of humor, endless stream of life stories and of course, his “Scott-isms”, will be dearly missed. His steadfast guidance, encouragement and support of the staff and his faithful focus on the vision and mission of the church have been inspiring. While Scott looks forward to doing what he wants when he wishes to do it, he says he will most miss the people with whom he works.

But, we will still be seeing Scott in the pews! Scott and his wife Joyce will maintain their home here, while also enjoying more time at their second home in Tennessee, near 6 of their 7 grandchildren. A number of road trips with Joyce are planned, including one down the Mississippi to Memphis; another to Florida on some Boy Scout business (in addition to his commitment and passion for WCC, he is a highly merited and tireless volunteer for the Boy Scouts); another to New Mexico to train adult Scout leaders; and a European river cruise this fall.

Best wishes dear friend! Trout... watch out!

“He is risen, He is risen indeed”

These familiar words are known as the Paschal or the Easter Greeting and its use is part of a very old custom within the Christian Church. Saying these words on Easter Sunday is the culmination of walking the road to the Cross, with Jesus, and celebrating the truth that with God, light will always trump darkness and life will always trump death. It is a reminder for us to look for “resurrection moments” in the midst of the crucifixions of our own lives.

In the Parables community, we celebrate these “resurrection moments” each and every Sunday morning in the Chapel at 10:10 a.m. This service is where people with special needs come to find their place at the table of Jesus, to discover their unique God-given gifts and to share them boldly with the world. Come join us and see the words “He is Risen” put into action. Because “He is Risen Indeed”! All are welcome!

Blessings,
Leslie

The Sunday After

THE MINNESOTA BOYCHOIR

The Sunday After Easter, April 23, will feature the Minnesota BoyChoir returning to WCC to sing for 9:00 and 10:45 a.m. worship services. The choir sings concerts regularly in WCC’s Sanctuary as a part of the Music at Wayzata Concert Series, and sang for the Sunday After Easter 2012.

The Minnesota Boychoir trains young men to be outstanding musicians and strives to help them develop a sense of poise and self-confidence through education and performance. The singers come from many communities throughout the Twin Cities metropolitan area.

Biblical Paintings

If you have admired the two paintings by Krista Johnson, which hang in the stairwell at the West Entrance of the church, prints are now available for you to purchase for your own home or as a gift.

Krista Johnson is offering these Giclée prints for a limited time. 40% of the net proceeds from sales will be donated to WCC's mission and outreach project for the Community Room at Kimberly Meadows in Plymouth.

About the paintings

The original paintings were commissioned by Krista's mother, Bette Johnson, with the request that one of them portray Jesus' great love and compassion. In response, Krista painted the story of "Jairus' Daughter". The other painting, "Woman Caught in Adultery", Krista chose as an example of the inclusive love of Jesus. (Read more about the paintings at www.wayzatacommunitychurch.org/biblepaintings)

Jairus' Daughter

Printing Overview

Prints are available as Giclée or on Canvas. Printing done by BamBam Grafix.

Giclée Printing

Giclée is a French word (pronounced Zhee-Clay) which means "to spray". Giclée fine art prints are produced digitally on high quality inkjet printers, which have the capability to reproduce a much wider range of colors than conventional processes, due to the specially formulated inks and media used.

Pricing

Giclée Prints (Unframed)

11x14 (image size 9x12) $59

16x20 (image size 14x18) $134

Prints on Canvas

Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra Concert (tickets required)

Chaconne: A Baroque Fantasy

Friday, April 7, 8:00 p.m.

Conductor and harpsichordist Jeannette Sorrell brings her “vibrant, life-affirming approach to the re-making of early music” (BBC Music Magazine) to the SPCO for a program of works rooted in dance by masters of the Baroque era. At the heart of the program, SPCO musicians Joshua Koestenbaum and Sarah Lewis are featured as soloists in Vivaldi’s Double Cello Concerto. For tickets, visit www.thespc.org or call 651-291-1144.

Cantus (tickets required)

America Will Be!

Sunday, April 9, 3:00 p.m.

In America Will Be!, Cantus explores the sacrifices of some of our nation’s greatest heroes at home: men and women fighting for the evident truth that all people are equal. Featuring timeless spirituals like Harry T. Burleigh’s “Deep River” and “This Ol’ Hammer” by John W. Work, as well as new voices in American music, America Will Be! looks toward the potential of the American promise. To purchase tickets, please call (612) 435-0055 or visit www.cantussings.org.

The Encore Wind Ensemble

Sunday, April 23, 3:00 p.m.

The Encore Wind Ensemble is a collection of some of the Twin Cities’ top instrumentalists dedicated to the performance of traditional and contemporary masterworks for band. It provides an opportunity for serious wind players and percussionists from the Minneapolis and St. Paul area to share in the highest level of musical expression and artistry. The concert is free.

The Wayzata Symphony Orchestra

The Planets

Sunday, April 30, 3:00 p.m.

This concert will feature Gustav Holst: The Planets, Op. 32. Each of the seven movements in this suite is named after a planet in the Solar System and its corresponding astrological character as defined by Holst. The concert is free.

His Story, Our Story

by Rev. S. Lindy Purdy

To make of his story something that could neither startle, nor shock, nor terrify, nor excite, nor inspire a living soul is to crucify the Son of God afresh. (Dorothy Sayers)

When we stand in our 21st Century time zone, with our Post-modern, Western mindset, wearing the lens of freedom and wealth and privilege, the story of Jesus is most often experienced as a distant event, in a distant place, in distant times.

This story can be told in many ways. According to the gospels, it involved a collusion between religion and politics, soldiers and police, chief priests and Pharisees to solve a mutual problem— Jesus. Jesus stands at the center of the action like a mirror in which all can see themselves clearly. But this story is not simply a conflict between politics and religion, or between the betrayer and the betrayed, or even a story of one people against another. This is not a story from a distant time and place. It is our story as Christians, and the season of Easter bids us to look in the mirror of Jesus, and find our reflection in the world.

At a retreat years ago, the leader asked us to think of someone who represented Christ in our lives. Of course, we all chose saintly people who reflected God’s love clearly and compassionately. I will never forget one woman who stood up and confessed that she had to spend a long time thinking about the question “Who is it in my life who tells me the truth about myself so clearly that I wanted to harm her?”

The story of Easter is startling, shocking, terrifying, exciting, inspiring. Jesus stands as a mirror, that we must dare to look into during Easter week as we move from waving triumphant palms, to sacred remembering at the table, to brutal clashes and ultimately horrific death. And from the cross we hear the distant voice, “Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.” God, forgive us for we do not know what we do.
